Dear Colleagues,

The Pennsylvania-Delaware Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects will hold its 2012 Annual Meeting on April 13th & 14th, 2012 at the Lancaster County Convention Center and Marriott in downtown Lancaster City. We are in the planning stages for the 2012 meeting and have chosen the theme “Rethink-Refocus-Revitalize”. The 2012 Annual Meeting will be focused on how the profession of Landscape Architecture can work to rethink-refocus-revitalize our built and natural environment.

The goal of the ASLA Annual meeting is to exchange ideas between professionals through presentations, tours, and panel discussions. We are looking for presenters for the 2012 Annual Meeting who have knowledge and experience that would be beneficial to share with fellow professionals. The meeting will offer attendees a mix of tours and 60 to 90 minute presentations on topics like new technology, research, planning, sustainability, etc.
