Landscape Architecture Registration Exam – Review
Thomas J Nieman, PhD, FASLA (tnieman@uky.edu)

This review is a presentation of the process necessary to prepare for, take, and pass the four (4) sections of the Landscape Architecture Exam (LARE). Please bring your laptops as I will provide approximately “2 gbs” of data (books, study material and sample tests) that will guide you in the right direction.

The session will open with a segment that dispels common myths, misperceptions and outright mistruths about the exam.

I will then proceed to help you develop an approach to success:

- How to prepare.
- What materials to use and how to use them.
- How to answer various item types on the exam
- And, ultimately, how to PASS.

WARNING: The LARE is not a test of knowledge or an exercise in memorization. Rather, it is designed to ascertain minimal competency – what a landscape architect, who is protecting public health, safety, and welfare, needs to know.

Olmsted would be proud 😊
