Build Your Career. Create Meaningful Places. By Design.

At RGS Associates, we believe there is a difference between finding a job and building a career.

We are a collaborative team of landscape architects and civil engineers who bring our collective talents together to create meaningful places. Our diverse client base and broad portfolio of senior living, residential, commercial, institutional, municipal, and community design projects provide opportunities to solve unique challenges and develop a well-rounded foundation for your career.

Our disciplines are not separated into isolated service areas. Landscape architects and civil engineers work together as interdisciplinary teams, with opportunities to contribute throughout the life of a project. This assures career development from initial planning and feasibility through design, permitting, construction, and post-construction involvement.

Just as importantly, we invest in your development. Mentorship, coaching, training, hands-on experience, and continued skill development are fundamental to how we work. As your capabilities grow, so do your opportunities to take on greater responsibility, develop client relationships, lead projects, and shape the direction of your career.

We're looking for motivated, driven, aspiring professionals to join our team. We have the following opportunity available for you to consider:

Opportunity: Landscape Architect - Entry Level
Position Type: Full-Time, In-Office
Office Location: Lancaster, PA
Position Description / Application Link: Careers - RGS Associates

At RGS, you will do more than work on projects. You will develop the skills, experience, relationships, and professional judgment to build a career, By Design!
